

Busy acupuncture clinic in St. Louis, MO

... is seeking an associate who has an interest in building a thriving practice in an underserved community.

Yong Kang Chinese Medicine Clinic is located in the delightful and accessible neighborhood of Kirkwood. We draw patients from both St. Louis city and county as well as from southern Illinois.

St Louis offers a low cost of living, access to the arts, spectacularly vivid weather, an increasingly diverse community, some nice restaurants and the City Museum. It also is in a region that up till recently has not been exactly open to acupuncture. That, however, has changed and increasingly Chinese medicine is becoming THE alternative treatment of choice.

Do you want to build a practice, and built it fast? Do you like the idea of a cash-only business? Does it sound appealing to practice in a community that is very supportive of new practitioners? Would you like to see patients with difficult and challenging health concerns? Do you happen to have a weak spot for frozen custard? Then this opportunity just might be for you.

永遠健康

Interested? Go visit www.yongkangclinic.com to get a taste for what we have going on here. Like what you see? Follow up with an email to michael@yongkangclinic.com.

The American Midwest is desperately in need of more Chinese medicine practitioners. You can make a difference here!